CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Cloud-Burst—Hit by a Rain-Short Wheat Crop—New Rail League—Kicked. By a Mule Struck Caught—Drowned in a Cistern.

Jagoe Put Under Bond.

Crofton, June 26.—Earnest Jagoe, col., who shot Jake Drake, col., in the face in a row over in Wild Cat Hollow last Saturday, has been arrested and placed under a $200 bond to appear before Esq. Geo. H. Myers next Tuesday. Drake is still alive, but the chances are against his recovery. Jagoe was shot in the neck by Drake, but the wound is only a slight one. Shelton, a bystander was also hit in the arm. There were five shots fired. Your correspondent was unable to learn the cause of the shooting. Drake is considered a very dangerous nigger and has several times figured in rows with members of his own race.

A Regular Cloud Burst.

Last Tuesday afternoon one of the heaviest rains of the season fell near Lafayette. The rain was so regular and burst and great damage was done to property in that section. The down-pour was accompanied by a very high wind, which wrecked several barns and other out buildings and blew down much fencing. Tobacco and corn was washed up and carried away and much wheat in shock suffered a like fate. Many fruit trees were also blown down.

Struck With a Base Ball Bat.

While in a practice game of ball at Cadiz Tuesday, Oscar Baker and a young man named Schultz became involved in a difficulty. Baker struck Schultz over the head with a bat, cutting open his head for several inches. It is believed that the young man's skull was fractured by the blow and he may die. A warrant was immediately sworn out for Baker's arrest but he has not yet been found.

Wheat Crop of a Crop.

The wheat crop is being threshed out at a rapid rate and will soon be off the hands of the farmers. Reports from all parts of the country are to the effect that the yield is a very poor one. There will not be more than 10 to 15 per cent of a crop. The quality is very good and part of the grain will be marketable. No 2 wheat opened in this city at 82 cents, and receipts are light. No 3 ranks a few cents lower.

The Kentucky Indiana League.

A meeting of the Kentucky-Indiana League will be held in Evansville, Ind., to-day, when final arrangements will be formally made. The towns composing the proposed new league will likely be Evansville and Vincennes, Ind., and Henderson, Hopkinsville, Madisonville and Owensboro, Ky. Hopkinsville will have a representative at the meeting to-day.

Kicked by a Mule.

Mr. W. H. Clark, a well known young farmer, of Beverly, was kicked in the side by a mule Tuesday and it was first thought that he had been fatally injured, but upon examination by a physician it was found that no bones were broken. At last account Mr. Clark was getting along as well as could be expected and will be able to be out again in a few days.

Motion Overruled.

In the case of W. F. Cox and wife vs. Robt. Armstrong, which was decided some months ago in favor of plaintiffs and in which a motion was made for a re-hearing, a final opinion has been rendered, overruling the motion. Messrs. J. B. Allenworth and W. W. Clarke represented the plaintiffs and Messrs. John Feland and C. H. Bush the defense.

A Suspected Rapist Captured.

Nat Curtin, a negro was arrested near Elkton, and he is believed to be the fiend who assaulted Mrs. C. Trimble, near Adairville, about three weeks ago. The examining trial comes off to-day, and if he is identified by the lady there will be a hanging in Logan county at once.

Drowned in a Cistern.

Otho, the 16-month-old child of Jake Quarles, col., of Church Hill, while playing around an open cistern Wednesday, fell in and was drowned. The child was not missed for half an hour after the accident and when a search was made its dead body was found in the water.

Gone to the Pen.

Deputy H. H. Golay took Frank Tandy, col., to the Eddyville prison Tuesday to serve a sentence of two years for forgery. Tandy was the only one given a term in the pen at this session of the court.

MR. R. J. COOPER DEAD.

A Prominent Merchant of Lafayette Falls Asleep.

Mr. R. J. Cooper, the veteran merchant of Lafayette, Ky., died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock after a lingering illness that had its beginning from a carbuncle.

Mr. Cooper had been rather feeble in health for some years, having been a sufferer from a throat trouble. His painful sufferings from the carbuncle brought on other complications and for some weeks he has been in a very critical condition. His death had been looked for a week or more, as his physicians had abandoned all hope of his recovery.

Mr. Cooper was in the 74th year of his age and was one of the oldest merchants and most favorably known business men in the county. He had been in business at Lafayette for a half century and no man in South Christian stood higher or enjoyed the confidence and respect of his neighbors to a fuller extent.

Deceased was born in Virginia, but moved with his father to this county about 60 years ago. Later on he lived in Logan county for several years.

He leaves a family of grown children, one of his sons, Mr. R. E. Cooper, being a well known tobacco warehouseman of this city.

Mr. Cooper had for many years been a consistent member of the Methodist church, and was prominent in its various organizations.

The interment occurred Wednesday morning in this city with Masonic honors, the brief services at the grave being conducted by Rev. H. C. Settle of the Methodist church.

The Small Meeting.

The meeting at the Tabernacle will close next Sunday night. During his stay here Rev. Sam Small has delivered some of the finest sermons ever heard in the city and our people have shown their appreciation of the evangelist by turning out in large numbers to hear him at every meeting. In a conversation with Mr. Small yesterday he said that his labors here had been very satisfactory to himself and he had reason to believe that they would result in good to the community. He likes the people of Hopkinsville and will return in high good humor with everybody.

He has an engagement with the Southern Lecture Bureau for the month of July to give a series of lectures in the States of New York and New Jersey. He is also to deliver a temperance address in Louisville the 10th of the month.

Mr. Small is a very busy man and is now carrying on a voluminous correspondence involving all his time for several months to come. Nothing we could say would add to his reputation, in this section as a deep thinker, an orator or a conscientious laborer in Christ's vineyard.

Circuit Court Matters.

This week has been taken up by civil matters and nothing of much importance to the public has been passed upon. As the docket is pretty full one it is likely that an extra session will be held the latter part of next month in order to dispose of the business.

In the case of Meacham's adm. vs. the L. & N. railroad, after the plaintiff's witness were introduced, no motion was made by defendant's attorney for peremptory instructions. The court held that the evidence was not sufficient to constitute negligence on the part of the railroad company, as deceased had contributed to the injury, and the case was dismissed. Geo. Meacham was killed by an L. & N. train at Kelly in March last, and a suit for $60,000 damages was brought against the company.

Clarksville, June 23.—Yesterday the Times ten-mile road race was run out the Nashville Pike five miles and return, the start being made at 5 o'clock. There were eight entries, all local wheelmen. The course was rough, and hence the time was slow, but a large number of people witnessed the sport. The race was won by Kenrick Rudolph, five minutes handicap in 37:40. J. A. Lyon, Jr., three and one-half minutes handicap, won the time medal, in 36:20.

The Lyon Babies.

Dr. S. J. Mathews, who has been out the past two weeks exhibiting the Lyon babies, returned Sunday. He showed them at Nashville, Springfield, Clarksville, Hopkinsville and several other places. When asked what would be the next step, he was either unwilling to tell or undecided and said they would be here for the present. The parents were with the babies on part of the tour.

A Call.

The People's Party Co. Com. is called to meet in Hopkinsville on the first Monday in July to transact its important business. M. D. Davis, June 24, 1896. Ch'm.

FOUR MORE FOR SILVER

OF SIX STATE CONVENTIONS TWO-THIRDS ARE FOR THE WHITE METAL.

Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Texas Fall in Line With a Large Gain for Silver in Wisconsin—New York for Gold, but Electors are Not Named.

Illinois for Alford and Silver.

Peoria, Ill., June 23.—John P. Alford is the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor of Illinois. He was unanimously placed at the head of the ticket this afternoon. The convention, as has been predicted, came out strongly for free silver, and to instructed its delegates at-large to the National Convention. The platform was almost diametrically opposite in all its parts to that of the Republican party, and the 1065 delegates voted unanimously for its adoption.

Silver Gains in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 23.—Free silver developed unexpected strength in the Democratic State Convention to-day. Until within three weeks the delegates to the convention were supposed to be overwhelmingly in the majority in the Wisconsin Democracy, but when the test came this afternoon the silver men were victorious. The delegates at-large to the national convention are all gold-standard advocates.

For Bland and Silver.

Austin, Tex., June 24.—The silver wing Democratic State Convention of Texas yesterday adopted a 16 to 1 free silver platform, and endorsed Bland for President.

Ohio Goes for Silver.

Columbus, O., June 24.—The Democratic State Convention concluded to-night after being in session continuously all day. It was primarily a silver convention, and secondarily the budding of a boom for John R. McLean for the presidential nomination at Chicago. Of the 673 delegates 570 voted for free silver and 618 for McLean.

New York for a Gold Standard.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 24.—The Democratic State Convention has put itself on record on the financial platform, but declined to name its electors for the convention. It declared for sound money and endorses the present administration.

Indiana for the White Metal.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 24.—The convention of Democrats in this city to nominate a state ticket was the largest and most enthusiastic of recent years. E. F. Shively, of South Bend, was named for governor on the first ballot. The platform adopted declared unequivocally for free silver and endorsed Gov. Matthews for president.

Christian Endeavor.

Sunday is the time set for the regular monthly meeting of the Local Union. The services will be held in the Ninth Street Christian church, at seven o'clock. The meeting will close in ample time to allow attendance upon regular church services. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Fifteenth International Convention which met in Washington on the 8th of July, will be the most wonderful that has ever been held. Not only will there be more delegates in attendance, but more prominent men will be present and address the assemblages, than ever before. The sessions will convene in better quarters than heretofore. Three immense tents, capable of seating thousands of people, have been prepared, and the largest halls and churches secured for overflow meetings.

Washington moulds the opinion of our nation in a great many matters, and this conference, being thousands of our enthusiastic people in contact with the Capitol of the nation, will no doubt, exert a wondrous influence on the people. And because of the national prominence of the convention home, gathering is attracting more wide-spread attention from non-Endeavorers, than any of its predecessors.

Kentucky intends sending the largest delegation in her history. Owing to the extensive preparation which are required for the entertainment of the internationals, the Board of Trustees usually decides two years in advance when the meetings are to be held. Louisville is trying to secure the convention of '98, and for that reason, desires to send a representative number of delegates. It is stated that Hopkinsville should be well represented in this delegation. As the conventions presents such unusual attractions, and Washington is a place where one never tires of sight-seeing, no one should miss this, the only cheap excursion east this summer.

Fulton is to have a fine new $20,000 hotel.

TODD KNOCKED OUT.

Decision of the Court of Appeals Affects Others.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—Mayor Todd loses. So does Appellate Judge Landes. The successor of both, as well as of Judge Noble must be elected next November.

So decides the Court of Appeals. The opinion was handed down by Judge Hazlett this morning. He said: "The case of Todd vs. Johnson is affirmed, Judge DuRelle and Guffy dissenting, Judge Landes not sitting."

This, of course, meant that the court had, by accident or otherwise, decided politically in the decision. The reason why Judge Landes did not sit was because the decision affected his term of office the same as that of Todd, the constitutional question being decided as well as the charter provision.

The opinion is in Judge Hazlett's handwriting and covers twelve pages of closely-written legal cap. After stating all the evidence which agreed case with which the public is familiar, opinion holds that the election of presidential electors in an election of State officers is the meaning of Section 162 of the Constitution, which provision that the election to fill the vacancy shall take place at the election of State officers in the month of either city, town, county, district or State officers are to be elected.

The court further holds that an additional election for this view is proper. Judge Pryor's successor in the Fifth district is to be regularly elected this fall and indicate very clearly that if an Appellate Judge is to be regularly elected this fall that it is unreasonable to hold that Judge Landes's place, constituting a vacancy on the same bench, cannot be filled.

The opinion indicates throughout that what applies to Todd's case applies very much more to Judge Landes, to Judge Noble and to all the officers now serving by appointment and filling a vacancy. The opinion is considered much more conclusive than was the McCullough-Sheley opinion of some time back.

Another Negro Rapist Lynched.

Decatur, Ala., June 24.—Full and reliable particulars of the atrocious crime and awful fate of Louis Orr has just reached here and is as follows: Orr was a colored man, living in Lawrence county. His little daughter, Mary, is only 8 years old. Lewis Orr, a negro 22 years of age, was shot dead by a white man, who was his father-in-law. The child gave the alarm, but was silenced by putting his hands over her mouth and choking her. She was carried a short distance and delivered into the hands of her father-in-law, who was his father-in-law. The following morning the negro returned to Mr. Puckett's and worked as usual in the cotton field.

Two young white men, legally authorized, arrested the negro, where he was working, and delivered him to the county jailer at Moulton. During the day a posse of more than fifty men had been organized and started to Moulton to arrest the negro. The jailer, hearing that the posse was coming, concealed the negro in the cupola of the court house, but his whereabouts was discovered. The negro was taken, tied on a mule and carried to the Baptist church, a short distance out of town, and hanged to a tree, then cut perhaps several feet from the body.

News From Uruguay.

Gracey, June 25.—Miss Fannie Wash, of Wallonia, is the guest of Mrs. T. J. Wall this week.

Mr. A. C. McGehee and Dr. D. Bell have returned from Dawson.

Mr. R. G. Bayman, of Waverly, Ky., is spending a few days with old friends here.

Capt. R. S. Pool leaves Sunday for Richmond, Va., to attend the reunion of Confederate veterans, June 30. Jack Harris, col., was thrown from a mule Tuesday, breaking one of his legs.

A delightful moonlight picnic was given last night at the home of Mr. B. W. Conner, near the residence of Mr. Ruby Powell, of Corydon, and Mary McGraw, of Roaring Springs. Element refreshments were served and an affair proved a most pleasant one to all who were fortunate enough to be present.

Boone Family Reunion.

A remarkable family picnic and reunion was held near Elkton Tuesday by the children and grandchildren of Mrs. M. M. Boone, the widow of the late H. G. Boone, nephew of Daniel Boone. The party numbered about fifty, all of whom are direct descendants of Mr. Boone.

Removing A. F. A. Headquarters.

Washington, June 25.—The national headquarters of the A. F. A. will be removed to this city this week by President Nichols and Secretary Palmer, who are now in Chicago arranging to erect a new headquarters. The furniture and records of the order from that city to Washington.

Over Thirty Years Without Sickness.

SHABBY MAN'S MILLIONS

Richard Tighe, who for years and years was the owner, and until the death of his wife, the sole owner of the shabby house now remaining in Union square, turns out to have been a millionaire.

It was known when Mr. Tighe died that he had some money, but everybody except his very intimate friends supposed it was small fortune left him by his wife, who was the daughter of Robert J. Chase, the first president of the Fulton National Bank. Even his relatives did not think that his fortune was large, although he had always been an eccentric and so secretive that they were prepared to believe anything.

It was stated the other day that a examination of his papers had revealed that the old man had been a strong supporter of the cause of many safe deposit companies, and that an examination of these boxes had brought to light $1,730,000 in bonds, the Lake Shore, the New York Central, and the Great Northern in United States bonds, all gilt-edge securities. The coupons of some of the bonds had not been clipped for more than ten years.

It was stated the other day that a shabby fellow who looked almost like a tramp. He was seen every day in Fourth avenue and in Union Square park. He would sit by the hour in the park, watching the crowds. He was a stranger, and it was seldom indeed that any one could engage him in conversation.

One day in the fall of 1893 a Sun reporter succeeded in having a half-hour talk with him, and he revealed an extraordinary story about old New York, when Chambers street was up town. The town had outgrown him, the old man said, and he guessed he had almost lived too long. He was ready to die.

His clothing was threadbare then and he was the picture of misfortune. The idea of his owning a lot of property in sight of where he sat would never have occurred to anyone. He did own several buildings on the east side of the square. He collected the rents himself and he invested the money in gilt-edge securities. This collecting and investing was a side job of his about which the people who saw him daily and felt sorry for him knew nothing.—N. Y. Sun.

ENGLAND AND AFRICA.

Great Britain Wants the Dark Continent at All Hazards.

To gain control of Africa is to be the great triumph of the near future. Africa is the land of gold and glory in the days that are just dawning upon humanity. The conquest of this mighty country is already singing down upon the wind, and the general impression is that Africa is the field for future successes and fortunes, and that history will record the triumphs of the pioneers in the great movement. So fully impressed is Great Britain with the possibility that the mind of the average Englishman seems to be inflamed with a desire to get possession of Africa either by fair means or foul.

Africa offers inducements to enterprising young people with a little money. It is useless to go there empty-handed unless one goes under contract as an employer with some special business. All of that great territory is teeming with animal and vegetable life and with productions that the civilized world is willing to buy and for which it will pay well. Some of our most valuable articles of commerce come from Africa, and with the settling of that country merchant ships will be on hand and traders will flourish.

It is one of the unfortunate phases of the affair that there are wars and rumors of wars, oppressions, injustice and the credulities that invariably attend the excitement, but it seems to be one of the laws of life that the strong must overcome the weak, and certain it is that intelligence is bound to dominate ignorance, superstition and the institutions of barbarism.

Africa is probably one of the most beautiful and interesting countries on the face of the earth. It would be quite in order to make it one of the objective points of a grand itinerary. What could be more delightful than a trip to this much-talked-of region—a trip to be taken when our climate is bleak and uncomfortable and the delicate and luxuriant children of men could be transported in a few days from the chill and storm to the very heart of the tropics.—N. Y. Ledger.

So sweet the blush of childhood, even pity scarce can wish it less.—Byron.

TIME WASN'T WASTED.

An Afternoon with Women in Thoughtful Mood.

"You can't tell me anything about mere clothes," said the girl in the Leghorn hat, "they were only invented to give engaged men an excuse for being late for appointments and married men a reason for going out at night."

"Very true," said the girl in the poke bonnet, "and all they do is to gossip about politics, anyhow. By the way, speaking of politics, what is the presidential campaign year?"

"Yes, it is," said the girl in the blue gown, "though why they always have it in 'can year is more than I can understand."

"Nor can I," said the girl in the poke bonnet, "but since it is presidential campaign year one thing is certain, there will not be a single man at any of the summer resorts."

"Oh, yes, there will," said the girl in the Leghorn hat, "the candidates will all be here. The day after tomorrow the one who got nothing out of it will be the one who has nothing to say. Perhaps a new hat will all be in vogue, and the women will be in town shouting and perspiring over the election."

"I don't know," said the girl in the blue gown, "I like to see the women act so silly. If the candidates were women they'd be in town to look after their own blooms."

"Not at all," said the girl in the poke bonnet, "a woman who had determination enough to run for office would have determination enough to make some man do all the work of it for her!"

"Hm, I hadn't thought of that," said the girl in the blue gown. "Well, there is one comfort, anyhow. If there are no men at the summer resorts, we shall all get a chance to carry our own parasols and so save our complexions."

"True," said the girl in the Leghorn hat, "Oh, isn't it funny to see the air of satisfaction with which a man struts along by a girl carrying her sunshade at an angle which injures a blusher on her nose next day, lets the light gleam on her eyes and conceals all the best points of her toilet?"

"Very funny," returned the girl in the blue gown, "awfully funny if it happens to be another girl. By the way, Dolly says that the chief happiness of her honeymoon—you know she was married last June—consisted in being able to quibble with Dick about the way in which he carried her parasol without being afraid that he would carry one for another girl the next day."

"Dolly always did have luck," sighed the girl in the Leghorn hat. "A short girl with a turned-up nose can always be as cross as a man as she likes—it relieves her own feelings and he only thinks it funny, anyhow."

"I know," said the girl in the poke bonnet, "unless, of course, he is related to her, then—"

"That is quite another matter, of course!"

"Oh, girls," cried the girl in the Leghorn hat, "I've hit on such a lovely plan by which I can give way to my temper without offending people."

"Say, you're on the verge of nervous prostration; of course, anybody can—"

"Nothing of the kind; I practice saying the meanest things in the sweetest voice I can command. By the time people have realized that I meant to be horrid it is too late to—"

"Hm," said the girl in the blue gown, "it seems to me that one of my earliest recollections is of taking a very bitter pill in very sweet jelly—the principle is—"

"Good gracious," cried the girl in the poke bonnet, "is that five striking? I should have been home hours ago. Well, one comfort, we haven't wasted our afternoon as the men do when they go to their clubs, gossiping about politics and stocks!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

Met an Indian King.

When the late Shah of Persia was in Paris in 1859, he visited the Wild West show and there met the famous Indian chief, Red Shirt. The latter was in his tent and was presented to the Persian monarch. To his astonishment, Red Shirt held out his hand as though to an equal. The Shah hesitated, but when the interpreter whispered: "He is a king," he took the Indian's hand and shook it. He was evidently amused, and is reported by the dignified old warrior, with his feathers and primitive surroundings.

Our First Savings Bank.

The first savings bank established in the United States was in Philadelphia, which opened December 2, 1816. It said that the first deposit made in this bank was the sum of five cents, handed over by a boy. This bank was the Savings Fund Society of Philadelphia. The first bank of this kind established in New York was chartered November 23, 1816, and went into business July 5, 1819.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Parrot, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive rights to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 25 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 25 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fact-seller signature of Dr. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

TIP BRANSFORD'S FAME ABOARD.

(From St. Louis Standard.)

Mr. John F. Bible, superintendent of the Wagon Works, a long time resident of Kentucky, himself a gold-standard man, received the following letter:

Owensboro, Ky., June 15, 1896.

My Dear Sir:

I thank you for yours of the 13th inst. It is very pleasant to have the congratulations of my friends, especially of those holding contrary views on the money question. I must declare, however, to the opinion expressed by you, that a national ticket on the silver platform will not win.
Mark my prediction! If Chicago convention adopts a straight-out silver platform and nominates a man like Boies, Bland, Stone or Stevenson, he will carry the country by the largest vote ever cast for a presidential candidate in the electoral college since the days when the South was disfranchised. The people were very much aroused on the tariff question at the last presidential election, but the feeling exhibited in that contest sinks into insignificance in comparison with that which animates them at the present time. I believe a silver candidate will carry everything west of the Alleghenies and south of the Potomac, with the possible exception of Minnesota and Wisconsin. I will observe that I do not except your own State. Party lines will be obliterated in this contest, and even to a greater extent than silver were four years ago. I hope you will preserve this letter, and I promise, if my prediction is not verified, to eat my dish of crow with as much grace and satisfaction as a 16 to 1 silverite would be expected to do. *****

C. W. BRANSFORD.

Mr. Bible says that Mr. Bransford is president of the Owensboro bank, a financier of experience and proved ability, and a business man of sagacity, whose ventures have been successful, and whose position in the community is one that stands for conservation in business affairs. He is not an enthusiast to be led away by sudden impulse; neither is he one of those "who are in debt," and desires to get out with 50 cent dollars.
He is one of the wealthiest men in that section, and his means are well in hand. Mr. Bible says he was never more surprised than when he received this letter, as he had counted him as one of those who could be safely trusted to cling to a gold standard.

The decision of the Court of Appeals requiring an election for Mayor of Louisville to be held next November to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Tyler will make politics in that city lively during the ensuing four months. To add to the excitement of the municipal contest a Congressman and Presidential Electors, Circuit Judge and City Court Clerk must be elected the same day.

Warden Happy, of the Eddyville penitentiary, in an interview with Cash says the burned buildings at the penitentiary can be replaced for $10, 000, though they originally cost $68, 000, and for $2,500 the boiler and engine can be replaced.

In the case of W. H. Brown & Sons against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company to collect taxes for public school districts, Judge Barr dismissed the intervening petition. A similar decision was made at Owensboro several days ago.

And yet, as we have said, if the sound-money strength had been asserted in three or four pivotal counties, the free-silver majority of the State Convention would have been a sound-money majority.

We recur to these facts now to assure the sound-money Democrats throughout the country that Kentucky is for sound money and that the State Convention was lost to sound money through the same sort of delinquency that bids fair to lose the National Convention. We recur to them, furthermore, to assure the free-silver enthusiasts that no party on a free-silver platform can carry Kentucky this fall.—Courier-Journal.

We defy the Courier-Journal to name any ten pivotal counties that would have wiped out the silver majority of 482 in Lexington Convention. Nearly 100 of the 119 counties in the State went for silver and yet this once reliable organ says that a change in "types" of counties completely changed the result. As a matter of fact there is not a county in Kentucky where the majority of the Democrats are for the gold standard. One of the most prominent gold delegates who represented Louisville in the Lexington Convention stated in a committee meeting that the city of Louisville was for free-silver on a full expression and a fair count of the Democrats. Moreover, he was a man in a better position to know what he was talking about than the editorial writers on the Courier Journal. The concluding sentence of the above extract can only be construed into another threat to bolt the nomination of the Chicago ticket.
Let the Courier-Journal do its worst, an open bolt is better for the party than such a half-hearted support as it pretended to give the ticket last year. The Democratic party can carry Kentucky without the Courier-Journal.

Counting Senators Carter and Man-te and four Senators, Teller, Dubois, Cannon and Pettigrew, who went out,
there are six United States Senators who participated in the protest against the gold plank. They constitute almost one-seventh of the Republican strength in the Senate.
Their defection reduces the Republican vote one less than that of the Democrats. All of this course depends upon the extent to which Carter joined in the independent movement.
The silver men regard this as one of the strongest grounds of advantage gained by them. Several Congressmen were also in the list of bolters, which appears below:

Colorado—Delegates at large H. M.
Teller, J. W. Rockefeller, J. W. Downing, F. C. Gaudy. District Delegates
A. M. Stevenson, J. F. Vrijan, Chas.
Brickenstein, and C. G. Hart.

Idaho—Delegates at large F. T.
Dubois, A. B. Campbell, Willis
Sweet Lytleton, A. Robertson and B.
Rich.

Montana—Delegate at large C. S.

Hartman.

Nevada—Delegates at large A. C.
Cleveland, W. D. Phillips, Enoch Strother and J. D. Overton.

Utah—Delegates at large Frank Q.
Cannon, W. R. McCommick, Thomas Kearnes.

All admit that the silver dollar is worth one hundred cents at present; that it is worth one hundred cents not only in the United States but in Europe. If this be true why is it that putting it on an equality with gold will reduce its price just one-half? If a law the intent of which is to place the silver dollar where it ought to be—right by the side of gold —and where it was prior to 1873 will reduce its value; why is it that gold does not decline in value under the same circumstances? The fact of the business in this 50 cent dollar talk is all made to create a prejudice against half of our money metal.— Exchange.

Free silver advocates will hold a conference in Chicago next Tuesday to outline the plan to be pursued by the silver forces in the Democratic national convention. Among the conferrees will be Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Walthall, of Mississippi, Morgan, of Alabama, Daniel, of Virginia, Turpie, of Indiana, Cockrell, of Missouri, Pugh, of Alabama, Tillman,
of South Carolina and Blackburn, of Kentucky.

Baby Russell, of Massachusetts, says he is going to Chicago solely to secure the adoption of the gold platform and the nomination of Wm. C.
Whitney. If Mr. Russell persists in nominating and electing Mr. Whitney in the face of Mr. Whitney's declaration that he wouldn't serve if elected, the country will be in the middle of a very bad fix the 4th of next March.

THE TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

The Only Low Rate Excursion to the East This Season.

A large number from this section will probably take advantage of the Christian Endeavor excursion to Washington, D. C., July 7. The route over which the special train will be run is the well known Chesapeake Ohio, the most interesting route leading into the Capital. The train will leave Louisville at 5:30 p. m., July 7, and will be run via the new Shelbyville cut-off, and thence through the beautiful Blue Grass region of Kentucky, into West Virginia, passing through one continuous line of scenery unsurpassed for beauty and interest. The New River and its mighty canyons, is left at Union, and the train follows the banks of the picturesque Greenbrier, now a perfect mirror reflecting the surrounding mountains, and then a rushing torrent leaping over immense boulders, and lashing itself into frothy spray. It is here among the altitudes and scene of the most famous resorts are located. They come in rapid succession: Red Sulphur, Salt Sulphur and the famous White Sulphur Springs. Then comes the Old Sweet and Sweet Chalybeate, then the Hot Springs. Then comes Clifton Forge, with the famous Natural Bridge of Virginia. The train passes the passage of the Alleghenah Valley is reached. The train passes through the Blue Ridge Mountains coming out at an elevation of 1,000 feet above Piedmont Valley, where is presented the grandest landscape of America. The trip from this point to Washington will be made through a beautiful country, slightly undulating, but dotted with variety scenery, until the Capital is reached. Stop-over privileges are granted at White Sulphur Springs and Covington, Va. (the station for Hot Springs). Cheap side trip excursions have been arranged from Washington to all places of interest. Pullman cars will be run to Clifton Forge and Washington. Diagrams are now open, and berth should be secured in advance by mail or in person. Persons desiring to take this delightful trip should write W. A. Wilgus, S. F. A., Hopkinsville, Ky., and further familiarize themselves with the details of the trip.

GEN. BEN BRISTOW.

A Statesman Who Once Lived in Hopkinsville.

New York, June 22.—Ben H. Bristow, Secretary of the Treasury during President Grant's second term, died at his home in this city to-day of peritonitis. Mr. Bristow was taken ill only last Saturday.

Benjamin Helm Bristow was a native Kentuckian, having been born at Elkton, Todd county, June 20, 1832. His early education was obtained at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania. Afterwards he studied law and was admitted to the bar in Kentucky in 1853, and then to practice at Elkton. In 1858 he removed to Hopkinsville. His brother Mr. Frank H. Bristow still resides at Elkton.

The breaking out of the civil war presented a problem which the young lawyer found hard to solve. He decided, however, to stand by the Union and entered the army as a colonel of the Twenty-fifth Kentucky Infantry. During the war his regiment was actively engaged. He was at Fort Donelson at the time of the capture of Grant and at Shiloh, where he was wounded.

About the close of the war he became Colonel of the Eight Kentucky Cavalry and distinguished himself. While still in the field he was elected to the Kentucky State Senate and served two years, from 1863 to 1865.

Shortly after the close of the war he was appointed United States District Attorney for Louisville. After five years of efficient service he gave up this place for the highest one of United States Solicitor General. This appointment was made on the occasion of the organization of the Department of Justice in October 1870. Two years were passed in this service, after which he returned to Louisville and practiced law. For a short time previous he had been counsel for the Texas Pacific Railroad Company. It was during this period of his life in Louisville that Gen. Bristow won some of his most celebrated cases.

Had his associates, Judge Harlan and Mr. A. E. Wilson, even then a prominent man, gained wide fame as able jurists.

In 1876 Gen. Bristow was nominated Attorney General of the United States, but the appointment was not confirmed. A year later, June 4, 1874, President Grant appointed him Secretary of the Treasury. This was the time that Gen. Bristow's fine character was tested. He unflinchingly met the gigantic whisky frauds which, astounded and dismayed the country, and was inflexible in seeing that due punishment was inflicted. These prosecutions brought out the fact that many high officials in the service of the United States were parties to the conspiracy by which the Government was robbed of millions of dollars.

W. C. Avery, Chief Clerk of the Treasury Department, was found to be implicated and was removed. Mr. A. E. Wilson, of this city, being appointed to succeed him.

In 1876 Gen. Bristow resigned. He became a candidate for the Republican nomination for President in that year and at the convention at Cincinnati he received 113 votes, that being the strength of the element opposed to the nomination of James G. Blaine. This was Gen. Bristow's last appearance in national affairs. He went to New York and became a member of the law firm of Bristow, Peet & Opedyke.

Church Hill.

Church Hill, June 23.—As we have not made our appearance in your excellent paper for some while, will endeavor to give a few items from our village.

Miss Rosa Lee Adams is visiting her grandfather, Mr. Strick. Miss Annie Carr, who has been visiting Misses Ora and Berta Baker, has returned to her home at Hermitage, Tenn. Many are the hearts that are sad to-night in consequence. Misses Frances Barr and Mattie Duke paid our village a flying visit last week.

Some of our young people attended the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Huffman in honor of Miss Frances Barr, last Thursday evening.

Mr. Allen Owen, looking quite stately and student like, has returned from the Elkton Training school.

Our dark-eyed little belle of this neighborhood, Miss Mattie Duke, has gone to Logan county to visit her sister and some former Bethel college schoolmates. We wish for her a pleasant visit and the boys all say a speedy return.

It was rumored last week that one of our best looking and most popular boys was lost, but he was returned in safety to his father's house. Watch out Robert, or some of our girls will carry you off sure.

The party given by Miss Addie Brodie was a great success. "Our King" was quite ill last week, and as we fear it is a case of heart trouble we feel quite uneasy.

DEATHS.

CHAVENS.—Mrs. Susan Chavens, wife of Mr. L. G. Chavens, of Julien, died Tuesday night, of cancer, aged about 65 years.

CLAYBROOK.—Edward Claybrook, an asylum patient, died of paralysis Tuesday night, aged about 50 years. The remains are sent to Owensboro for interment Wednesday.

Col. R. A. Burnett and Judge Robt. Crenshaw, of Cadiz, are in the city.

Mr. M. M. Hanbury, of Cadiz, was in the city Wednesday on business.

Mrs. O. G. Lander is visiting friends near Oak Grove this week.

Miss Julia Venable has gone to Owensboro to visit Mrs. Hugh Phelps.

Mrs. T. J. Tate has gone on a visit to friends and relatives in Louisville.

Miss Lelia Dinguid is visiting friends near Fairview.

Attorney W. T. Fowler spent yesterday in Henderson.

Mr. John Moany has returned from Louisville, somewhat improved in health.

Mr. Jas. W. Feamster, of Eddyville, has accepted a position with the Crescent Milling Co.

Miss Kate Bockman has gone to Ohio to spend the summer with relatives.

Mr. C. G. Layne and wife have gone on an extended visit to Northern Kentucky.

Miss Quencie Moss, of Bennettsville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. M. Girard.

Miss Florence Steinhagen has returned from a visit to her brother, Mr. Rudolph Steinhagen, at Paducah.

Mr. Thos. F. Smith, representing the Louisville Paper Co., spent Wednesday in the city.

Mrs. Fannie McDonald and daughter, of Henderson, are the guests of the family of Mr. W. T. Williamson this week.

Miss Barbour the little daughter of Mr. T. E. Barbour, of Hopkinsville, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. Frank Barbour on Upper First street—Branville Courier.

Mr. Chas. M. Meschan and wife passed through Tuesday morning from Hopkinsville on their way to the Kentucky Press Association meeting in Georgetown—Bowling Green Times.

Mrs. J. B. McKenzie, so well and favorably known for her long and faithful service in connection with the Hopkinsville Public School Primary Department, left Monday morning for her usual summer vacation in the mountains of Virginia. Her father, now quite an old man, lives in Rockbridge County.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.

Sales by Abernathy & Co. for week ending June 23, of 175 Hhds, as follows:

65 hhd's Good to med. leaf, $11 75 to 6 10.

67 hhd's low leaf, $5 40 to 2 20.

46 hhd's lug, $3 10 to 35.

Our market was firm at former quotations.

CLARKSVILLE MARKET.

Messrs. Kendrick & Runyon, of the Central, sold last week 438 hhd's, which ranged in price as follows:

Good to fine leaf, $3 00, to 13 75.

Common to medium leaf, $5 25 to 7 60.

Low leaf, $3 00 to 4 80.

Good to fine lugs, $2 75 to 4 80.

Spanish lugs, $1 50 to 2 50.

Trash lugs, 90c to 1 40.

Receipts, 301 hhd's.

LOUISVILLE MARKET.

(Parished the Kentuckian by Glover & Durand, divs.)

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3903 hhd's, with receipts for the same period 4050 hhd's. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 39,550 hhd's.

Sales of the crop of 1895 on our market to this date amount to 82,480 hhd's.

Sales on our market this week included 1076 hhd's, of dark tobacco with a better market for such leaf as would class from good to fine. The market remains very quiet and unsatisfactory for the common and medium grades of leaf. In some localities, the growing crop has been damaged by heavy rains but in a general way the crop was put on the hill unusually early and is looking exceptionally fine.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco, 1896 crop:

That nothing you can buy varies as much in quality as HARNESS.

Bigger frauds are palmed off on unsuspecting purchasers in this line than almost any other. Not intentionally, of course, but because so few dealers are judges of leather and leather sewing. As Shakespeare says "It is cavaire to the general."

We claim to be in a position to protect our customers in this line. Mr John Skally in the harness line and Col. Talbot in the SADDLE LINE are the best posted men in their respective callings that the section affords, both having devoted their lives to their study. They inspect every dollars worth of stock before it is purchased.

SICK HEADACHE, NO MORE.

I suffered nearly three years with my head. I had severe headaches and during the last year dizziness, pressure and throbbing in the brain. I have taken three bottles of Dr. O. A. Carlisted's German Liver Syrup and my head is now well.

Newburg, N. Y. Mrs. A. S. Jones.

SLEPT, COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHT.

From overwork I became nervous, tired, weak, exhausted and unable to sleep or rest. I finally took Dr. O. A. Carlisted's German Liver Syrup and soon slept soundly every night from eight to ten hours. I am well and live in a pleasure.

Edward A. Crawford.

AMONG KIDNERS.

I had the blues, and gave up.

Last February I felt very badly. I was getting worse until I was almost dead. I could not love my own children. I was on the brink of suicide. Finally I got a bottle of Dr. O. A. Carlisted's German Liver Syrup.

That night, for the first time in months, I slept well and began to improve. Now I am well and a truly happy woman. Mrs. T. O. Schmidt, Milwaukee, Wis.

CHRONIC HEADACHE, NEUROGENIC.

I was a sufferer from chronic nervous headaches and sleeplessness. Life became a burden. I tried doctors in vain. Finally I took Dr. O. A. Carlisted's German Liver Syrup and I finally believe it saved my life.

Miss Pearl Campbell, Englewood, Ill.

HEADACHES, INDIGESTION, ETC. 22 YEARS.

For 22 years I had headaches, indigestion, constipation and general debility with pains in my sides and shoulders. Tried doctors without avail. Dr. O. A. Carlisted's German Liver Syrup cured me. It's worth its weight in gold.

ARTIFICIAL SUNSET.

Testa's Latest and Most Wonderful

Electrical Invention.

Under this heading there have been published the results of one of the most interesting experiments of modern times.

A few years ago, Mr. Testa made known some discoveries of high potentials and high frequencies in electric currents, and set the whole world agog. Ever since that time he has been experimenting with light in various forms, and has, among other important discoveries, demonstrated the fact that artificial sunshine can be created through the aid of phosphorescence. This new discovery revolutionizes the idea of light.

It is said that when the improvements in this line are a little farther advanced, it will be difficult to tell whether the light in a room is natural or artificial. This is explained as follows:

"The light is radically different from any heretofore used in commercial form. People use units of light, made of light, simply because they have nothing better. The barbarians lighted with torches, and the people have been adopting that principle ever since. In order to imitate daylight, the light is needed that comes from all directions, so that there must be no shadows. Moreover, etheric light diffuses itself so that it is actual manufactured sunshine.

At a recent meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers a description was given of the advances made in phosphorescent lighting. These are very remarkable. "Banning and around the walls of the lecture-room were tubes of this glass. They were seven feet six inches in length, and as big as a man's arm. They were merely plain glass tubes, with a little air in them, and a wire running through the ends. When the current was turned on, these tubes became pure white cylinders of light. The first impression conveyed was lighting by smoke. The result of light seemed to be a dense, white, smoky atmosphere of the lecture hall was taken with a five-minute exposure. The pictures have the strength and clearness of the best daylight photograph; every detail is sharply defined, while there is a soft, even absence of shadows which suggest the development of an entirely distinct field in night photography. The effect is infinitely in advance of any flashlight picture.

The world is watching with the utmost interest the development of electrical science, and those who have gone most deeply into the subject are prepared to admit that the half has not yet been told. —N. Y. Ledger.

A Find at Delphi.

A bronze statue of a bearded man, five feet ten inches in height, and holding a horse's bridle in his right hand, has been discovered by the French at Delphi. It is the biggest find yet made there. The work belongs to the fifth century before Christ. The only imperfection in the statue is that the left hand is missing, but the feet and tail of the horse have been found, and it is hoped that further excavation will bring to light the missing portions of the group. The English on the island of Naxos have discovered a splendid mosaic pavement, representing in beautiful colors vegetable products, birds and fishes.

Colonial Tea Trays.

Every woman who boasts distinguished ancestry or a large bank account has a "colonial" tea tray among her possessions. It is a highly polished, modern affair, preferably of mahogany, surrounded by a narrow rail of silver leaf work. It is large enough to hold a goodly number of cups and the regulation afternoon tea service, and its chief charm lies in the fact that it may be carried by its silver handles from the dining-room on to the piazza or lawn.

Frog Hunting Prohibited.

Frog hunting is now prohibited by law in Belgium. The Belgian hunters, however, continue their amphibious occupation in Holland, and from the Sans-vant-Gent have recently sent in one half day as many as 20,000 frogs' legs on foot to Paris. These disgusting delicacies from two pence to four pence apiece, and some of the hunters find the calling very remunerative.

A High Price for a Coin.

For a golden penny of the thirteenth century, more than $120 was given at the resumed sale at Sotheby's in London, of the famous Montagu collection. The specimen was a rare example of the coinage of Henry III. and only three like it are known.

Opium Culture.

All Persian opium is cultivated on irrigated land, consequently the moisture is precisely under the farmers' control. This is most important, as rain, when the plant is nearly at maturity, would be certain to destroy the opium elements.

Battle Ax

PLUG

Sometimes quality is sacrificed in the effort to give the quantity for little money. No doubt about that. But once in a while it isn't. For instance, there's "BATTLE AX." The piece is bigger than you ever saw before for 5 cents. And the quality is, as many a man has said, "mighty good." I here guess work in this statement. It is just a plain fact. You can prove it by investing 5 cents in "BATTLE AX."
